

GERMAN RUSH STOPPED ON ALL FRONTS

MEDICAL BOARD IS DIRECTED TO AGAIN EXAMINE SELECTS

ALL MEN IN THREE GROUPS MUST PASS BEFORE PHYSICIANS, ACCORDING TO NEW RULES.

DISREGARD OLD REGULATIONS

SEEMS CERTAIN THAT NEARLY ALL CLASS ONE MEN, THOUGH REJECTED, WILL BE CALLED TO THE COLORS.

The Morgan county medical advisory board is today face to face with the problem of re-examining all selectmen of Groups B, C, and G, who have been rejected previously for military service. The board will work under new instructions, not as yet received here, and which, it is stated, will result in the ranks of Class One being largely increased. Even men who have been sent home from training camps because of their lack of physical stamina will again pass before the surgeons.

The county medical advisory board's instructions from the adjutant general follow:

1. The new "Standard of Physical Examinations" (Form 75) will be sent you in the next few days. Immediately upon receipt of these new regulations you will totally destroy all copies of the "Manual for Medical Advisory Boards" (Form 64) which are in your possession.

2. Immediately upon receipt of the "New Standard of Physical Examination" above referred to, local boards will re-examine all doubtful cases which may have fallen into Group B, Group C, or Group D, either under the original examination by the boards or upon rejection at camp, with the particular purpose of finding the men physically fit for general military service who may have been placed in one of the above-mentioned groups, and the removing to Group C as qualified for special and limited military service such men as may have heretofore been totally rejected or placed in the deferred remediable group.

3. The provisions of this circular should be complied with absolutely at the earliest possible moment, and re-examinations should be most carefully made, having in view the purpose above indicated. Under no consideration must the instructions of this circular be neglected or overlooked.

G. J. HUBBARD,
Brigadier General.

Until the new standard of physical examinations are received, it will be impossible for the local medical board to even hazard an opinion as to the necessary qualifications for general or limited military service. The wording of the letter, however, indicates that much more latitude will be used in selecting men for general service than formerly. It is also made plain that those who have heretofore been rejected will be placed in Group C and will be subject to call for limited service.

Lum Ward's Trial Again Postponed

Lum Ward, charged with the murder of "Red" Nelson, brought here from Huntsville by Sheriff Forman to go on trial, was called for a preliminary hearing yesterday at the Albany city hall.

The trial was put off until the 24th of June.

Lem Turney and Will Stinson, two other white men, have been arrested on the charge of being connected with the murder. These also have their trials set for June 24. Ward was taken back to Huntsville and the other men were kept at the Morgan county jail.

800,000 AMERICAN TROOPS IN FRANCE

Announces Gen. March, Chief Of Staff, in Official Statement

(International News Service)

Washington, June 15.—More than 800,000 men have now been sent overseas, General March, chief of staff, announced today.

The announcement was made at the first of General March's series of Saturday afternoon conferences in which he will outline conditions on the western front for the benefit of the American people. In this connection he explained that not alone must the present German strength in troops be considered, but the potential possibilities that they may increase their strength on the west by withdrawals from the eastern front. The general made it plain that the only limit to our man power is that which is imposed by the shipping problem.

General March made it very plain that the military situation is satisfactory to the Allies.

Washington, June 15.—More than 1,000,000 soldiers will be in France by July 1, and every means for the transportation of food and supplies must be developed to feed those forces, senators today told members of the Mississippi Waterways commission, who are here to urge a government-owned barge line on the Mississippi river.

Local Firm's Income Tax Nets Government More Than $11,000

One of the largest checks ever written in Albany in the payment of taxes by a firm has been mailed to John D. McNeel, internal revenue collector at Birmingham. It totalled nearly $12,000 and was in payment of the concern's income tax for 1917. This concern enjoyed an unusually profitable business last year, and being a corporation, came in for a heavier assessment than is made against partnerships and individuals. The income tax represented about one-third of its year's profits.

Today is the last day in which the payment of income tax can be made to avoid the penalty, and in consequence the mail is burdened with checks.

Turkey is Starving: Austria And Germany Are Hungry

(International News Service)

Washington, June 15.—Turkey is actually starving, Germany and Austria are having a hard struggle to feed themselves, and Bulgaria is suffering less from the food shortage than any of the other central powers.

This is the summary of a detailed survey of the food situation of the central powers conducted by the department of labor.

Conscription of all Americans in Great Britain and Canada between the ages of 21 and 31 inclusive. Conscription of British subjects in the United States between the ages of 20 and 44. Exemption of Irish subjects of Great Britain until the draft is formally applied to Ireland. Americans in Great Britain and British in the United States within the age limit may leave to serve in the armies of their own countries within 60 days after the treaty is ratified. Exemption may be granted by certificates issued by the diplomatic representatives of each government in unusual cases.

(International News Service)

Washington, June 15.—The contents of the recently negotiated draft treaty between the United States and the British government, which is to serve as a model of similar conventions between all the allied nations, came to light today, removing many misunderstandings.

It became known for the first time that differences over the age limits to be applied to Americans in British territory were the chief causes of the long delay in completing negotiations. It had been generally supposed that differences over Irish conscription was holding up final action on the treaty.

DECATUR BOOSTERS SPEAKE & MOEBES TO HELP CELEBRATE GLORIOUS FOURTH ECHOLS & SPEAKE

AT A MEETING LAST NIGHT COMMITTEE ON ARRANGEMENTS WAS ANNOUNCED.

The Boosters' meeting last night was full of business from start to finish. The first matter attended to was giving directions from the club as to the Fourth of July celebration. For its guidance the club had its secretary, D. M. Carr, read the printed directions sent out by the State Council of Defense, as to how the celebrations shall be held throughout Alabama this year. The suggestions of the Council of Defense were concurred in and the following committee on the celebration was appointed by Vice-President Foster Pointer, who presided in the absence of President Morrill: chairman, D. D. McGee; M. Dix and W. W. Fussell. To these gentlemen the club delegated full authority to perfect all arrangements for the celebration.

Resolutions Submitted by J. R. Daniel. When the matter of the recent securing of the new train, which is to run over the Southern to Sheffield on a convenient schedule for Decatur, came before the club, a number of speeches were made and the work of the committee on transportation, of which Mayor Nelson is chairman, was commended, but special praise was given President H. L. Morrill for his personal efforts in the matter. J. R. Daniel offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted: Resolved, That the citizens of Decatur, through the Decatur Boosters' club, express their appreciation to the Southern Railway management in the inauguration of improved passenger service between Huntsville and Sheffield, a matter of vital importance and great benefit to Decatur.

Resolved, further, That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the club and a copy be sent to the officers of the road.

J. W. Clopton's Committee Very Active.

J. W. Clopton, in behalf of the committee on the placing of the new sign "Decatur Welcomes You," asked for further direction as to where it should be placed, and it was directed by vote that the sign should be installed over the Decatur Cafe.

Mr. Clopton also reported for the committee on industries.

Two dairy concerns, through Mr. Clopton, made propositions to establish large dairies in this section. The whole matter was referred back to the committee for further consideration. At the suggestion of Mr. Webster, an active booster, the following committee on farm lands was appointed: T. L. Baker, T. E. Pride and T. M. Dix.

D. D. McGeehee Speaks.

D. D. McGeehee, who arrived late at the meeting on his return from Falkville, was called on to state to the Boosters something of the work accomplished in the organization of the new Red Cross chapter at Falkville. Mr. McGeehee stated that a delightful audience was awaiting the Red Cross

OTTO MOEBES WILL RETIRE AND NEW FIRM WILL BE SPEAKE, ECHOLS & SPEAKE.

The sale of the business of Speake & Moebes, Second avenue merchants to Echols & Speake, Decatur, was announced today. It was also announced that the business would be continued by the new firm of Speake, Echols & Speake, composed of Webb Speake, of the firm of Speake & Moebes, H. R. Speake and James L. Echols, of the firm of Echols & Speake.

Otto Moebes will retire from business and will take a short vacation before announcing his plans as to the future.

This is one of the most important deals made by local mercantile establishments in many years. The firm of Speake & Moebes formed nearly 15 years ago, has, by progressive methods and careful attention to the wants of its customers, grown to such proportions that it is recognized as one of the leading establishments of the Twin Cities. More than two years ago it moved from Fourth avenue to Second avenue, and in its new store launched a still more vigorous campaign for business. The result has been that the store has expanded in many ways and has enjoyed a trade in shoes and ready-to-wear second to none. Echols & Speake a partnership formed upon the dissolution of the old firm of Williamson & Echols, has occupied the same relative position in Decatur that the firm of Speake & Moebes did in Albany.

The new firm will assume charge on August 1, and in the meantime the large stocks of Speake & Moebes will be moved by a special dissolution sale, which is advertised in today's Daily.

Moebes to Take Rest.

Mr. Moebes, the retiring member of the firm, stated today that he would take a much-needed rest before announcing his future plans. He will be a member of a hunting party that will invade Mississippi early in August.

His many friends in the Twin Cities hope that he will eventually conclude to re-enter business here. Mr. Moebes is president of the Albany Board of Commerce, a forceful and popular citizen and merchant, one who has done much for the development of the city and community in which he resides.

Maj. Chas. Bassett In Mayor's Race

It was authoritatively stated today that Major Chas. Bassett will enter the race for mayor of Albany in the coming municipal election. Formal announcement will appear in due time.

HUNS UNABLE TO ADVANCE AND ARE NOW DIGGING IN

Artillery Roars But Infantry Has Ceased Lunges Against The Line

COMPIEGNE, FRENCH BASE, BEING SHELL

All-American Flying Squadron Makes Its First Trip Into Enemy Territory

(International News Service)

Artillery is now playing a predominant role on the western front. As taken the French less than one week to break down the German offensive between Montdidier and the Oise river. Now the Germans must content themselves with violent shelling.

Minor operations have been carried out in some sections of the battle line. It is probable that the Germans realize that they have gone as far as they can go and are now digging in.

(International News Service)

With the French Army, June 14.—(Night).—Compiègne is now being held by the Germans. It is the great French base 45 miles northeast of Paris which the Germans set out to capture in their latest dash last Sunday morning. It is a town of high strategic importance.

The new American army is rapidly coming into the firing line. It is an exaggeration to say at this time that for every German put out of action a fresh American is added.

(International News Service)

Paris, June 15.—Paris is safe. The fourth German attempt to break the allied lines has ended in failure. War experts are confident that the German rush has been stopped all along the line. The Germans have been unable to renew their attacks on the Montdidier-Oise sector.

Not only do the allies hold the upper hand on the land but their superiority in the air is making itself felt everywhere.

On Thursday night French machines made a raid on German cantonments and military works, dropping 20 tons of high explosives.

(International News Service)

Amsterdam, June 15.—Artillery duelling is taking place along the Alpine sections of the Italian front, the Austrian war office announced, according to a dispatch from Vienna. The statement claimed that a British irman had been shot down.

(International News Service)

With the American Army in France, June 14.—(Night).—A highly experienced American flyer who formerly was in the French army led the first party of all-Americans who flew over the German lines and bombed towns in the rear. There is to be a big jollification dinner at headquarters over the success of the first air raid.

(International News Service)

With the American Army at the Marne, June 14.—(Night).—This afternoon the Germans opened a concentrated bombardment against the American positions at Triangle farm immediately northwest of Chateau Thierry. The enemy today used captured French aeroplanes to fly over the American positions.

(International News Service)

Paris, June 15.—The Germans are systematically looting the French territory they have occupied north of the Marne river. Among the German prisoners just captured by the Americans were some that were camouflaged with flowers, grass and bushes. Many of them were found to be wearing stolen rings and even brooches. One captured prisoner was 65 years of age.

AMERICAN ENGINEERS FOUGHT IN THE LINE

(International News Service)
With the American Army at the Marne, June 14.—(Delayed).—American engineers worked, fought and died like veterans with the infantry in the fighting northwest of Chateau-Thierry. Their conduct has elicited the highest possible praise from the commanding officers. So great have been the German losses since March 21 that the Germans now only slight outnumber the defenders.

WAR SITUATION IS MUCH MORE FAVORABLE

(International News Service)
Washington, June 15.—The situation on the western front is more favorable to the allied army than at any time since the German offensive was launched in March. This statement was made by General March to members of the senate military affairs committee at their conference with the war council today. The Allies are gradually gaining numerical superiority in France, due to the rapidity with which the American troops are being sent across the Atlantic.

Reports to the war council indicated that the Germans introduced the use of new gas, revolutionizing this method of warfare during the last offensive. These new gases have been almost wholly responsible for the

CLAUDE VANDIVER WRITES TO MOTHER

A SOLDIER BOY SAYS ALL IS WELL WITH HIM ON MOTHERS' DAY.

Claude A. Vandiver, with the 17th Regiment Engineers (R. Y.) wrote to his mother, Mrs. Alice Vandiver, on Mothers' Day, May 12, as follows: Dear Mother:

I suppose you have long ago read that every man of the A. E. F. would be requested to write his mother on this day that we commemorate with thoughts of mother, and wishing that we were so fortunate as to be with them on this great day.

We have finished our regular Sunday inspection and after that I went to hear what our chaplain had to say on Mothers' Day, which I enjoyed very much. I also heard a nice talk from one of the privates of our regiment, who, before enlisting, was a fully ordained minister, but lately has gotten a commission as a chaplain of our unfortunate regiment that is now at the front.

You mothers can rejoice in the fact that today there are being letters written to nearly all of you, and the boys that have no mothers are requested to write some one else's mother, and now in our barracks I can count no less than eight or ten writing their letters and before tonight they all will have written home.

I certainly consider myself fortunate, for along with the pleasant thoughts of you, mother, and wishing that the task was finished so this day could have been spent with you, I received a letter from you dated April 17th, and needless to say I certainly enjoyed it for it seemed to put the finishing touches to proper regard for "Mothers' Day."

We each have a great deal to be thankful for on this day. First, I am very thankful for the fact that I am well, healthy, happy and able to write you, and I am again thankful that I am still able to fill the place of a man in the A. E. F. from every standpoint that it wants me to be, and another way I am thankful is that I still have a mother to write to and hope and pray that God will guide and protect her so that I will have one to return to after victory has been won, for you know we go back under no other condition.

I can't help but imagine how sad this day is for many American mothers that have been notified that their son has given his life for the cause of freedom, that you and all other mothers might spend their old age in peace and comfort.

I am here reminded to tell you of some things I heard a few days ago from an English soldier I chanced to meet and who has gone through the spring drive that has quieted down for a little while.

This soldier happened to be one selected to bring some prisoners to where we are and is now guarding them. Mother, you think you can imagine the horrors of war but you cannot.

I must close, hoping that this reaches you with all other mothers' letters, and you will enjoy it as this is from your boy, and always remember your soldier son.

Your only son, CLAUDE.

Food For the Liver

Have you ever thought of medicine as food—the same as meat or potatoes? Yet that is what it really is. "Sodium Bi-carbonate" sounds rather threatening as a medicine, yet all housewives use baking soda in their cooking every day.

An eminent Specialist has said that every organ of the body has the power to take that nourishment which makes it grow and remain healthy. Thus there are certain herbs, fruits and plants which the liver shows a fondness for. They stimulate the liver just as food strengthens and stimulates the whole body. These we call liver medicines or liver tonics.

By investigation it has been found that several of these vegetable products, combined with Pepsin, form an admirable liver food. They have accordingly been prepared in pleasing, tasty form, and are sold under the name "333 Liver Tonic." They are powerful enough, but gentle in action, and are never habit forming. Many people have been delighted to learn that 333 Liver Tonic provides a safe and pleasant substitute for calomel, salts, castor oil and other drastic and disagreeable purgatives. Children take it with pleasure.

Dillehay Brothers and other good druggists sell 333 Liver Tonic in big fifty-cent packages. You will find it just what you need for constipation or sluggish liver. Try it on their guarantee of satisfaction or money refunded. Do not accept a substitute. All good drug stores are glad to sell and recommend 333 Liver Tonic.

The Decatur Hosiery Mills are now a permanently established institution which have the best interests of the Twin Cities at heart. We pay the highest piece work prices, some of our girls making from $10 to $15 per week. We will have openings from time to time for bright young ladies who are anxious to become skilled in a good paying and high-class line of work.

CHARLES HARDEMAN DINES IN PARIS

LOCAL BOY ALSO TELLS OF BOMBS DROPPED NEAR HIS HOSPITAL BY GERMANS.

Charles T. Hardeman, Jr., now with the American ambulance corps in France, in a letter to his mother tells of having dined in Paris on his birthday. He also mentions the fact that German planes dropped bombs near the hospital where he is stationed.

The letter follows:
No. 9 (Lakeside, U. S. A.) General Hospital.

B. E. F., France, May 20, 1918.

Dear Mother:

Well, here's this boy of yours again I know it has been a long time since I wrote home, but—honest, mother, for the last two months things have been so "lively" right in this location it has been hard to keep up my correspondence. And while the last big drive was on I worked at my desk during the day and from 8 to 2 at nights in the operating room, and in helping with the operations I got septic infections on both of my hands and had to have them in splints for two weeks, with hot dressings applied three times a day. It did not keep me from my work though. I manage to get along all right with the three boys I have in my department; they did all the writing and I kept their posted on everything.

Since April 15th I have been in charge of the American sick and wounded records, and believe me I have my hands full, but it is good experience for me and some of these old days I will know the medical department like a book. I am still in the headquarters building, in fact in the same office. The reason they changed me, was that the sergeant who was in charge simply fell down on the job, and, thank Heavens, after I got his part of it straightened out I made a splendid report on May 1st and they were pleased with it, too.

Your letter of April 21st came just about a half-hour ago, and the one of March 13 and April 6 came about the 1st of May. I see that you addressed my letter, Sergeant 1st class I have forgotten whether I told you about getting my warrant dated February 11, 1918. How did you find out? Did I tell you before?

Mother, I get so much mail over here that it just keeps me on the jump to answer it all. All my friends back in the states write and Aunt Clara writes so often I can hardly keep up with her. But letters are about the best things we get over here and they are always welcome.

No, I have not seen or heard from any of the people you have mentioned in your letters, and I do hope I will be lucky enough to get in touch with some of them and hear a few things about home. I have lost track of Roy Billings again, have not heard from him in some time. But he will pop up some of these days with a letter. He may be in the same shape as myself, head over heels in work. I sure will miss the Daily, as they were coming in a very short time towards the last. It has been just about three weeks since I received the last bundle. If anything of special interest is published, you can clip it out and send it to me in a letter.

Yes, I notice that lots of my old schoolmates and friends have been commissioned, but I see that a lot of them are still in the states. Well, they had better hurry up and come over or I will have them all beat in service stripes. On the 18th of this month one year ago, we landed in England, and we now wear two gold stripes on our left sleeve to show that we have been over one year, one for each six months. Are we proud of them? I should say so.

We will all be glad to see the day come when we will start back to God's country," but there is not a single one of us that wants to come back until the Kaiser and all of his followers are licked to a frazzle. I never want to see anything marked "Made in Germany" again, and I think I will be a German hater the rest of my life. Sometimes I get so mad I just want to transfer to the infantry and get a few of them, but I guess with my three years' training in this branch of the service I will be of more benefit to my country by staying where I am. Now here's just what we think of our President: "He is the biggest, greatest and best man in the world today." Those that do not think so should come over here and see how he is respected by all of the Allies. His name is on every tongue and his picture is to be seen everywhere you go.

Well, I had better stop or I will be writing something that will not pass the censors.

On the 22d of this month I will start on my fourth year in the army. When I come I will be an old soldier. Guess it was a good thing that I was in the army when war was declared. I at least had some training and was able to help train a unit of 150 of the finest boys you ever saw.

Well, I was down in Paris last

Monday, and it being my birthday I had a great big dinner at the Hotel du Grand Pavillon. I went down Sunday afternoon with an ambulance train of American patients and came back Monday night by rail. Paris is just as lively as ever and the bombardment doesn't seem to have any effect on the population. They attend to business just the same and the streets are always crowded.

Not long ago, the date which I cannot give, old Fritz came over in his planes and dropped a few of his "tokens of love" near our hospital, but very little damage was done. He can't do much as they make it too hot for him with the guns.

Now, mother, I will have to come to a close, as it is getting late and I am pretty well worn out. Give my best wishes to all the folks around town.

I forget to mention the fact that

Dr. Gunter's letter of recommendation came all right, and I will write him thanking him for the same. I have not decided to go up for a commission just yet, but may do so in the near future. Things look pretty good just at present for my promotion to a grade higher in the enlisted ranks. Will let you know if it occurs. I am enclosing a photo, not very good, but it is just like me, so the fellows say. Write real soon. Love and best wishes to all.

Devotedly,

C. T., Jr.

Wirthmor $1.00 Waists

If you were to come here tomorrow to buy nothing more than one of these Wirthmor dollar Waists the trip would be well worth while.

As with all Wirthmor Waists they are most unusual in value, and they are the same genteel pretty Styles that will also go on sale tomorrow in all the larger cities throughout the country.

Although the cost of everything that goes into their making has advanced radically, there's been no advance in the far-famed dollar Waists.

It's only because of the many large economies of the Wirthmor Plan, under which these Waists are made and sold that such splendid values are possible.

Wirthmor Waists can be sold in just one good store in every city, and they are sold here only.

AMUSEMENTS

MASONIC TODAY.

Her hand sought the jeweled dagger in her bosom that was to be her last defense. As she stood, hesitating, there came to her, by a trick of memory, scenes of her early happiness. With what high hopes she had seen Vale set forth, on the road to fame and fortune! And now—the sacrifice! Her hands tightened on the dagger—well, she would be no lamb led to the slaughter!

Isn't she stunning! Of course, it's Alice Brady in "Her Silent Sacrifice" and it is the first of her select pictures which comes to the Masonic today.

CREED WORTH LIVING UP TO

Man Who Wrote It Had Proper Appreciation of the Advantages of Life in the Country.

If any country boy ever becomes discontented with his lot and thinks there might be more opportunities elsewhere, or a better place to live than in a white farmhouse, let him read the creed composed by Edwin Osgood Grover. The lines might be pinned up on his bureau, where he can see them the first thing in the morning and the last thing at night.

"I believe that the country, which God made, is more beautiful than the city, which man made; that life out of doors and in touch with the earth is the natural life of a man.

"I believe that work is work wherever we find it, but that work with nature is more inspiring than work with the most intricate machinery.

"I believe that the dignity of labor depends not on what you do, but on how you do it; that opportunity comes to a boy on the farm as often as to a boy in the city; that life is larger and freer and happier on the farm than in the town; that my success depends not upon my location, but upon myself; not upon dreams, but upon what I actually do; not upon luck, but upon pluck.

"I believe in working when you work and in playing when you play, and in giving and demanding a square deal in every act of life."

ADDS TO HARDNESS OF BRICK

Scientist Explains Why Straw Is a Necessary Ingredient in the Process of Manufacture.

Everyone is familiar with the story of how Pharaoh commanded his task-masters to increase the burdens laid on the Israelites by withholding from them the straw wherewith to make bricks, says the Popular Science Monthly, and doubtless many have wondered wherein the hardship lay. By most people, probably, the view has been held that the straw was added as a binding material, much as hair is used in the mortar; but such an explanation is scarcely satisfying when it is remembered that the straw fiber is a very weak one. Alexander Finlay says in his "Chemistry in the Service of Man":

"About fourteen years ago it was found by Dr. E. G. Acheson, to whom we owe the discovery of carborundum and the process of making artificial graphite, that when clay is mixed with a dilute solution of tannin it becomes much more plastic, and the strength of the dried brick is, moreover, greatly increased. Although straw does not contain tannin it was found that when straw is treated with water, the extract obtained has the same action on clay as tannin has, the plasticity of the clay and the hardness of the brick being greatly increased."

To Paraffin Floors.

Make your own materials for keeping your floors polished. Start with an old broom. Cut the straw off just below the wires which hold it to the handle. Cover this with an old stocking and sew onto this covering the legs of other old stockings cut about 12 inches long and slit into one-inch strips up to two inches of one end. Sew these around and around the surface in rows about one inch apart until the mop is of the desired thickness.

Then dip the mop into a solution of one-half cup of melted paraffin and one cup of kerosene, and allow the liquid to dry on the strips.

The mop may be kept moist by rolling it tightly when not in use and covering it with a paper bag.

Maj. Chas. Bassett, Octogenarian, is Given "Write Up" by the American Red Cross

The foregoing photograph of Maj. Chas. Bassett, of Albany, who so successfully led the local Red Cross drive, is sent out by the Gulf Division of the American Red Cross. Accompanying the photograph is the following explanatory write up.

New Orleans, La., June 15.—Charles Bassett, 29, left a wife and three children in 1862 to go to war. He enlisted as private in Company G, 22nd Michigan Volunteer Infantry, August 12, 1862.

He took part in half a dozen or more battles of the Civil War and when he was mustered out at Nashville, June 6, 1865, he was captain of Company B.

The same Charles Bassett, now just past 85 years of age—perhaps not as active as the Charles Bassett of 1862—was chairman of the second War Fund campaign of the Red Cross in Albany, Ala. Not so very many miles away, 53 years ago, he fought—and suffered.

"I knew the privations and terrors of war, and I know what the Red Cross can and is doing for the American boys today," explained Mr. Bassett.

Incidentally, reports to the Gulf Division, American Red Cross, New Orleans, show Mr. Bassett and his co-workers went nearly twice over their quota.

Major Bassett is perhaps the oldest man in the entire union to lead the forces of humanity in a successful campaign. He is now 85 years young, and although just as spry as many a barefoot boy, his strength was taxed in his latest patriotic accomplishment. The Albany Red Cross drive netted about $11,000, or nearly three times the city's quota of $4,000. Much of the credit goes to the alert generalissimo, who led his forces over the top to a memorable victory.

TERRIBLY SWOLLEN

Suffering Described As Torture Relieved by Black-Draught.

Rossville, Ga.—Mrs. Kate Lee Able, of this place, writes: "My husband is an engineer, and once while lifting, he injured himself with a piece of heavy machinery, across the abdomen. He was so sore he could not bear to press on himself at all, on chest or abdomen. He weighed 165 lbs., and fell off until he weighed 110 lbs., in two weeks.

He became constipated and it looked like he would die. We had three different doctors, yet with all their medicine, his bowels failed to act. He would turn up a ten-cent bottle of castor oil, and drink it two or three days in succession. He did this yet without result. We became desperate, he suffered so. He was swollen terribly. He told me his suffering could only be described as torture.

I sent and bought Theodor's Black-Draught. I made him take a big dose, and when it began to act he fainted, he was in such misery, but he got relief and began to mend at once. He got well, and we both feel he owes his life to Theodor's Black-Draught."

Theodor's Black-Draught will help you to keep fit, ready for the day's work. Try it!

FARM HANDS DEMAND $50 A MONTH, SUNDAY AND HORSE AND BUGGY

(International News Service)
Alma, Kas., June 15.—Three farmers here recently tried to hire farm hands. One young fellow agreed to work for $50 a month if given the use of the farmer's car whenever he wanted it. Another said he would work for $45 if given Saturday afternoons and Sundays off, and furnished a horse and buggy. The third wanted $50 and the farmer to furnish him a car to go and see his girl, twenty miles away, every Sunday. The trio are not working.

SOLDIERS DENIED KISSES AS SMACKS INTERFERED WITH MEALS OF TROOPS

Scranton, Pa., June 15.—Soldiers passing through Scranton will no longer be kissed by local girls. Mayor Connell, a bachelor, has put a stop to the practice. The mayor says that, while personally he sees no harm in having the girls kiss the soldiers, he has received complaints galore, including one from the Red Cross and on this account has decided to prevent further osculations at the station. The Red Cross workers said the kissing interfered with their task of feeding the soldiers.

Veritable Nest of Pro-German Propagandists In Mexico Described by An American

(International News Service)
LAREDO, Tex., June 15.—A prominent American who for the past two years has been making his home in Tampico, Mexico, passed through Laredo a few days ago en route to his old home in California, and while there was interviewed as to conditions in Mexico. He gave out the following information as to the work being done by German propagandists in that country:
"A few weeks ago when the Germans made their big drive and won a slight victory over the Allies the news was cabled to Tampico and immediately the Germans of that place began a big celebration. They decorated the place with German flags, held a big parade, in which German flags were carried, and at night there was a big banquet, when speeches were made in German. The Mexican authorities did not attempt to interfere with the Germans in any way, in fact many Mexicans of importance rendered them assistance. A person who can be considered a reliable authority on conditions in Mexico told me that from statistics gathered by him it was found that there are yet at least 50,000 Germans scattered throughout Mexico, and all of them are engaged in spreading German propaganda among the Mexicans. No German employees are on the payrolls of Americans or British concerns in Mexico now, all having been discharged after the war started, and these same men, in vengeance for losing their positions, are working hard to incite the Mexicans against the United States and the Allies and in favor of Germany. This is no idle talk, but a well-known fact in Mexico."

Asked about conditions in the Tampico oil district the American gentleman said:

"The oil field situation is gradually becoming more serious as time passes on account of the exorbitant taxes demanded by the Mexican government and the inability of the oil field operators to get the necessary accommodations for the transportation of the product of the great oil fields. Many tank steamers were taken out of service in the Tampico oil trade shortly after the United States became involved in the war for use in coast-wise trade in the United States. At this time all of the big oil tanks, each of which holds from 50,000 to 55,000 barrels of oil, are full and can not be emptied for lack of steamers. If this condition continues long some oil producers will have to shut down."

Referring to the American people complaining at high prices of living as a result of the war, the gentleman from Mexico smiled, produced a list of prices asked in Mexico for the necessities of living and said: "Read that list." Here are the prices quoted, payable in American gold coin: Carnation milk, one-pound can, 60 cents; cow's milk (slightly aqueous), per quart, 50 cents; eggs, each 15 cents; ham and bacon, per pound, $1.50; flour, per 100 pound, 75 cents to $1; brown sugar (no white or granulated) three to four pounds for $1; potatoes, per pound, 12 cents; onions, per pound, 10 cents; butter, per pound, $1.75 to $2.

And then the American gentleman smiled and said: "I got a lunch in Monterey consisting of two eggs, a cup of coffee, bread and butter and two tomatoes, and it cost me 'only' $3.60."
